MEMO TO THE MEDIA

It is the express purpose of the Rutgers Sports Information Office to assist all those interested in Rutgers football. Your requests for interviews, pictures, slides, film, feature stories, facts and figures are welcomed. Telecopier service is available at our College Avenue Office in Alexander Johnston Hall during the week and we will do our utmost in helping you file your stories from the press box after the game. These services are free of charge. Please advise this office of your need for telecopier assistance prior to each home contest and also make arrangements through your local telephone company for placement of special phone orders.

Normally, there is room for only one commercial radio station and one student station covering visiting teams, so please request permission to broadcast as soon as possible. The official visiting stations will receive priority.

TICKET INFORMATION

Once again, three season ticket plans are available to Scarlet Knight football fans this year. Season reserved seats for $28.00 for four home games at Rutgers Stadium are available, while two five-game packages, featuring the Princeton game at Giants Stadium, in East Rutherford, are available at $30.00 and $32.00. Junior reserved seats for those 16 years of age and under are priced at $14.00 for the four Rutgers Stadium games and $15.00 or $16.00 for the two five-game packages. For the fifth consecutive season, a Family Plan is offered to Rutgers fans. For the first year, tickets are located on the five-yard line in the East stands in a package from one adult up to two adults and three children for a price range from $12.00 to $27.00. Additional children may be added under the plan for $2.00 each. Individual reserved seats may be purchased for $7.00 per game and $3.50 for youngsters. Tickets on the five-yard line in the East stands are $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for youngsters. Reserved parking at Rutgers Stadium will cost $8.00 for the season, while unreserved is $4.00.

Tickets for the Rutgers-Princeton game at Giants Stadium are priced at $9.00, $7.00 and $5.00 for adults, and $4.50, $3.50 and $2.50 for juniors. Tickets for the Rutgers-Columbia game at Giants Stadium have one price, $6.00.

RUTGERS, THE STATE UNIVERSITY

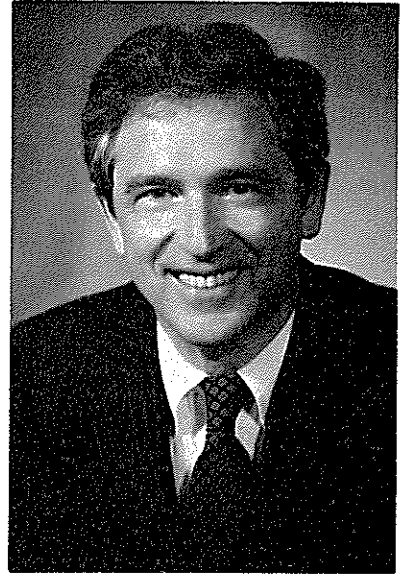

Rutgers University is many things. It is the state university of New Jersey, composed of twenty-one major instructional units including the eighth oldest college in the United States. It is an institution dedicated to serving the needs of the state through various units located in three major campuses in Camden, Newark, and the New Brunswick area. It is the only educational institution in this country blending a heritage as a colonial college in the eighteenth century with the roles of a land-grant college in the nineteenth century and a modern, complex state university in this century.

Rutgers University is a place where most of its 48,000 undergraduate and graduate students are affiliated with one of the moderate-sized college communities. Each college has its own identity, traditions, special programs, and individual philosophy. At the same time, every student benefits from the many academic and cultural advantages available only in a large, diversified state university.

Rutgers is large, but since it is composed of many smaller, more personal units, students have an expanded number of course offerings within the framework of more intimate learning environments. An extensive number of graduate and research programs offer an opportunity for continued enrichment and service to the community.

Rutgers University is an exciting, dynamic, and changing institution which offers rich, rewarding learning experiences.

"In large measure, we educate people to live a fuller life - to become better wives or husbands, better parents and better children - to learn to understand themselves. A university is a place to nurture the human spirit, as well as a place to develop science and knowledge. This nurturing of spirit is a process which is essential to the success of a civilized society. A university is also a place for immediate personal fulfillment. It is necessarily a place for hard work, but it is also a place to have fun - a fact educators and students themselves sometimes forget. It is a place for living, not just for preparing to live."

Edward J. Bloustein became the seventeenth president of Rutgers University in 1971. A lawyer, political theorist, philosopher, and teacher, Dr. Bloustein believes that the central role of a university is to help its students "develop human perspective through an understanding of the social, biological, physical, and historical bases of life."

FRANK BURNS

COACH

Since assuming the head coaching reins at Rutgers, The State University, five years ago, Frank Burns has quietly but rapidly guided the Scarlet Knights into the national gridiron limelight as one of the East's top football powerhouses.

In his five seasons at the helm, Burns has led Rutgers to a superlative 41-13-1 record, including a perfect 11-0 season in 1976, when the Scarlet was the 17th ranked team in the country. That fabulous campaign earned Burns "Coach of the Year" accolades from the Walter Camp Foundation and the New Jersey Football Writers.

Last year, after opening the season with a pair of tough losses, Rutgers rebounded to post an 8-3 mark that included a six-game win streak in mid-season. However, Burns suffered a mild heart attack after Rutgers defeated Lehigh 20-0 in October for its fifth consecutive victory, and was forced to miss the Scarlet's final four games. Defensive coordinator Bob Naso took over admirably for Burns, guiding Rutgers to a 3-1 mark in the interim, including a thrilling 22-21 last second win over William and Mary.

By January, Burns had returned to work on a full time basis, actively directing the Rutgers recruiting efforts while preparing for spring and pre-season practices. It was clear evidence that the easiest way to characterize him is by using the term, "a winner."

In May, following the spring season, Burns underwent a successful quadruple artery operation and spent the early summer in recuperation. Happily, he returns for his sixth season.

In his first year as head coach in 1973, Rutgers compiled a 6-5 record. In 1974, the Scarlet rolled to a 7-3-1 record, which included an impressive 20-3 win over Air Force and a 62-21 rout of Colgate. The 1975 team, after splitting the first four games, went on to take the last seven straight to earn a 9-2 record. And, of course, the 1976 squad was 11-0 and ranked 17th in the nation by the Associated Press.

Winning is nothing new for Burns. A 1949 graduate of Rutgers, he was the Scarlet Knights' starting quarterback between 1945-48, establishing a number of passing records while earning the nickname "Flinin' Frank." An All-East selection twice, Burns received honorable mention on many All-American teams, and went on to become the "Most Valuable Player" in the New York Herald-Tribune All-Star game.

Upon graduating, Burns became freshman coach of the Scarlet running backs (1949-50), freshman head coach (1953-54), varsity backfield coach (1955-56 and 1961-67), and offensive coordinator and associate head coach under John Bateman (1968-72). In between, he took time out to become one of the youngest head coaches in the country in 1951-52, when he was top man at Johns Hopkins at age 23. Following the 1956 campaign, he took over as head coach at Chatham High School (N.J.).

Burns also played professional football for a brief period with the Jersey City Giants before returning to the Scarlet coaching staff. Also an outstanding catcher on the baseball team, Burns helped Rutgers roll to an 18-8-1 record in his senior year, the second best mark in diamond history.

"I'm really looking forward to the coming season," says Burns. "We have some good veterans and some fine younger players to work with. Whatever happens, it should be an interesting year."

A native of Roselle Park and a resident of North Brunswick, Burns is married to the former Linda Rudolph of New Brunswick. He has three children, Frank, Jr., 25; Thomas, 24; and Barbara Jean, 21. Frank Jr. was an ECAC Division III All-Star as a quarterback for Nichols College in 1974.

SCARLET COACHING STAFF

ROBERT NASO, Defensive Coordinator

A Scarlet football aide since 1961, Bob Naso got his taste as head coach after Frank Burns suffered a heart attack last October. In his initial game at the helm, the Scarlet pulled out a thrilling 22-21 victory over William and Mary on a last second touchdown pass. In the four games Naso served as acting head coach, Rutgers was 3-1.

A 1959 Rutgers graduate, Naso was a blocking back and center for the football team between 1956-58, and earned second team All-American honors as a midfielder for the Rutgers lacrosse team. His coaching career on the Banks began immediately after he graduated, when he became an assistant coach with both the lacrosse team and the lightweight football squad. After a brief stint in the Army, Naso returned to Rutgers to become varsity lacrosse coach and directed the freshman football program. He became defensive coordinator in 1968.

Naso gave up his duties as lacrosse coach in 1974 after 13 years and a 95-59-1 career record which included two appearances in the national finals.

Naso, his wife Carol, and their three daughters, Andrea (17), Cynthia (14) and Felicia (10) live in Piscataway.

PETER SAVINO, Defensive Back Coach

One of the most versatile performers in Rutgers football history, Pete Savino is entering his fifth year as coach of the defensive backs. A former quarterback, wide receiver and defensive back in his three-year Rutgers career, the 1969 alumnus was the first recipient of the New Brunswick Touchdown Club Trophy.

Named a Rutgers freshman assistant in 1969, he missed the following season due to a military obligation, but returned to direct the yearlings to a 7-6 mark in two years. In 1973, he was appointed defensive backfield coach, and his troops rewarded him that year with a record 27 thefts.

The former Perth Amboy High School football and basketball star lives with his wife Jill and their daughters, Suzanne, 5, and Randy, 2, in Belle Mead.

TED COTTRELL, Defensive Line Coach

The Rutgers defensive line, traditionally one of the closest knit units on the team, has enjoyed great success in recent years under the guidance of coach Ted Cottrell. A former professional lineman himself, Cottrell is a graduate of Delaware Valley, where he won All-Middle Atlantic Conference honors three times. After a four-year pro career with the Atlanta Falcons and the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, he served for a season as assistant football coach and head track coach at his alma mater.

Cottrell's imposing manner and concern helped him earn the respect of his charges upon his arrival at Rutgers four years ago. His rapport with and close supervision of the defensive line is evident and his dedication and enthusiasm are respected by all associated with Scarlet football.

WILLIAM SPERANZA, Offensive Coordinator

Before the 1976 Rutgers football team compiled a sparkling 11-0 record, the only other undefeated season in the Scarlet's gridiron history was 1961. Bill Speranza led that squad to a 9-0 ledger and now enters his sixth season as offensive backfield coach, and his second year as offensive coordinator.

A 1962 Rutgers graduate, Speranza began his coaching career in 1965 when he guided the Knight's freshman team to a 5-0 mark. Two years later, after the sub-varsity unit compiled another unbeaten (5-0) season, Speranza became coach of the varsity defensive backs.

Speranza is credited with the development of running back J. J. Jennings, who led the country in scoring in 1973. Record-setting Bert Kosup and the durable Mike Fisher are bright feathers in Speranza's long list of credits.

Bill and his wife Linda live in Bridgewater with two daughters, Susan and Karen.

JAMES TAIGIA, Offensive Line Coach

A hard-nosed ex-sailor and a former Rutgers football player himself, James Taigia has been directing the Scarlet offensive line since 1968. They say when Taigia talks, everybody listens; and his nickname, "Chief", will attest to that.

A tough two-way guard on the 1947, 48 and 49 teams, Taigia helped those Scarlet squads sail through 8-1, 7-2, and 6-3 records. After an outstanding scholastic coaching career at Rahway, Piscataway and Hillside, Taigia accepted a coaching position at his alma mater.

Taigia, a former basketball official, is especially noted for the development of the Scarlet's outstanding 1976 offensive line, a unit that made 287 points possible during the 11-0 campaign. That front line, led by All-East tackle Nick Sauter, became known as the "Fools" (Fellowship of Offensive Linemen), and helped Rutgers complete only its second unbeaten season.

Taigia, a long-time resident of Highland Park, now resides in Bay Head with his wife, Ruth.

RICHARD CURL, Varsity Receivers Coach

A former college quarterback, Dick Curl is on the other end of the ball now as the varsity receiver coach. Entering his fourth year on the Banks, Curl is a native of Chester, Pa. Curl is a 1962 graduate of Richmond, where he lettered as a signal caller and earned an A.B. degree in history. He completed his graduate work at Bloomsburg State (Pa.) and Glassboro State.

Curl coached at Cherry Hill East High School for five seasons, before serving for one year as offensive coordinator at Trenton State College. The following year, as head coach, Curl guided the Lions to a 5-4-1 mark.

The popular South Jersey gridiron personality, a "natural" for recruiting duties in that talent-rich area, resides with his wife Beverly, and their three daughters, Debbie (17), Karen (15) and Susan (9), in Cinnaminson.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Growth and progress have been the Scarlet signposts since Fred Gruninger assumed the duties of Athletic Director in January, 1973. Now completing his fifth year at the helm, he continues to lead an expanding Rutgers sports program with unrivalled enthusiasm and confidence.

Under Gruninger's direction, the Rutgers athletic program has grown from 16 to 29 programs, and the State University fields 33 intercollegiate squads. Achievements such as a berth in the NCAA basketball tournament's Final Four (1975-76), an undefeated football season (1976) and 33 consecutive women's swimming victories over three years are just some of the highlights of the athletic renaissance on the Banks.

His aggressive leadership and administrative talents have led to the addition of teams like Alabama, Tennessee and Penn State on the football schedule.

"We have sought to make the program as effective and varied as possible, for both men and women, without exception," Gruninger says.

Gruninger, a 1953 graduate of The State University, played football and baseball as a collegian, and later excelled at golf, which included a brief stint on the pro tour. As the Scarlet golf coach from 1964-73, he recorded a superlative 109-30-2 record.

Prior to his current appointment, Gruninger served as assistant, then associate athletic director, for nine years after a five-year stint in the alumni relations department.

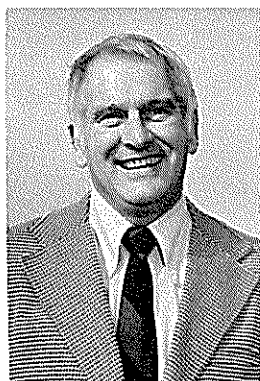

A native of Fanwood, Gruninger earned his master's degree from Rutgers in 1961. Gruninger and his wife Barbara, are the parents of three children, Mark, Katherine and John, and reside in Martinsville.

DONALD HEILMAN, ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

One of the most popular and pleasant personalities around the Rutgers sports scene is assistant athletic director Donald "Bud" Heilman. Heilman first came to the Banks in 1966 as an offensive line coach for the football team and remained as an aide until 1971. He was appointed assistant director of athletics in 1969.

A native of York, Pa., and a graduate of West Chester State College, Heilman served as an enlisted man on a Navy destroyer in the Pacific and European Theaters from 1943 to 1946. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Downingtown, Pa., High School in 1950. He later served as head coach at Alexis I. duPont High in Delaware for five years before joining the college ranks as an assistant at Bloomsburg State after which he served as head coach at Kutztown State for six seasons.

Heilman and his wife Nancy reside in Spotswood and are the parents of seven children. His son, Buddy, played halfback for the Scarlet in 1975.

injuries, which during the splendid undefeated season a year before were never a problem, plagued the 1977 edition from the outset. The defense was particularly hurt by injuries to middle guard Rich Wagner and linebacker Jim Hughes. Although both made a valiant attempt to play against Penn State, they found themselves ineffective and eventually were forced to the sidelines for the remainder of the season. Hughes was granted an extra year of eligibility and will be in uniform once again for the Scarlet, but tight end Jon Walling, injured in the second game, closed out a sparkling career much too soon.

As the season progressed, the Scarlet overcame the adversity that was so pervasive in the early going. In the season's last two wins, the Scarlet piled up 1,123 yards in blasting visiting Tulane and Boston University by a combined 110-16 margin. It was certainly a bright culmination of a season that began amid frustration, as the 63 points against Boston University was the highest total since 1949.

Included among the highpoints in the 8-3 season would have to be the 20-0 shutout over Lehigh, the eventual NCAA Division II champion. The Scarlet virtually shut down the visitor's prolific offensive attack, holding the Engineers to just 21 yards on the ground.

Graduated quarterback Kosup, who was the author of 28 victories during his sparkling career, was a record breaker last season. As the Scarlet was defeating Connecticut, the diminutive signal caller from Edison set the school record for career total offense (3,666 yards), surpassing another former standout, Scarlet head coach Frank Burns, along the way. Kosup also holds the mark for career passing yardage, 3,613, as well as the longest pass completion in Rutgers history, 97 yards.

A season with eight wins is certainly successful. Only eight other Scarlet teams have turned the trick. The record is enhanced by consideration of the way it was done. It may not have been as artistically beautiful as the previous year, but then again, no team goes undefeated year after year. No season, perhaps, produced greater pride.

DONALD HEILMAN,

But it was a mature, if young, team that Rutgers fielded in 1977. A squad of players filled with desire was able to look adversity in the eye and know it could win nonetheless. The Scarlet Knights persevered to win eight of their last nine games. The spirit was best evidenced at William & Mary in the season's eighth game.

By this time, Burns was resting uncomfortably at home and defensive coordinator Bob Naso was at the reins. The Scarlet Knights faced a rejuvenated Indian squad on Homecoming Day in Williamsburg, Va. To make matters worse, the home team jumped out to a 21-3 lead with just over five minutes left in the third period, as the rain began to come down.

Rutgers battled back, with the defense forcing turnovers and the offense making every effort to capitalize. A Bert Kosup to Tim Odell scoring strike with 13 seconds left in the contest gave the Scarlet a 22-21 victory — an accomplishment that epitomized the entire season.

With the pre-game publicity almost unwilling to yield to the game, the Scarlet opened the 109th season of football on a hot and muggy Sept. 2, the earliest opening date ever. The foe was national powerhouse Penn State at Giants Stadium in the Meadowlands. What the largest crowd (64,790) ever to witness a earned All-County honors as well as four letters. Was also a four year letterman in basketball.

KENNETH SMITH, 19, 6-2, 180, Sophomore defensive back from Somerset . . . Quikquote: "A superb athlete with outstanding balance and body control. Good quickness. Could have a bright future with continued improvement."—(Savino) . . . Rutgers Experience: Came on strong at the end of last year in the deep secondary. Broke up two passes, recovered a fumble and returned a pair of kickoffs in limited action. Could be one of the keys to the success of the defensive secondary . . . Scholastic Background: One of the top quarterbacks in New Jersey his senior year, Ken earned All-State honors at nearby Franklin Township High School. Led the Warriors to a 9-2 record while tossing nine TD passes as a senior. A three-year letter winner in three sports, he was a starting defensive back as a sophomore before finishing his high school career at quarterback.

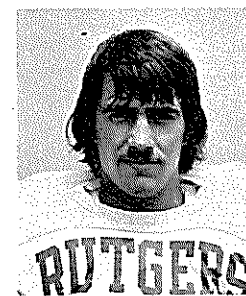

JERRY SMITH, 20, 6-1, 185, junior quarterback from Paterson . . . Quikquote: "An excellent athlete, Jerry is the best runner among our quarterbacks. Played defense last year as a cornerback. He progressed well in the spring considering the change of position."—(Speranza) . . . Rutgers Experience: As a freshman, Jerry was the quarterback for the sub-varsity team. Was moved to the secondary where he saw some action last year. Saw some action as a defensive back in the spring game. A versatile athlete . . . Scholastic Background: A graduate of Paterson Eastside High where he was a quarterback, Jerry earned All-County honors as well as four letters. Was also a four year letterman in basketball.

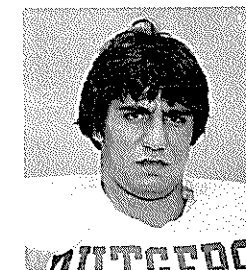

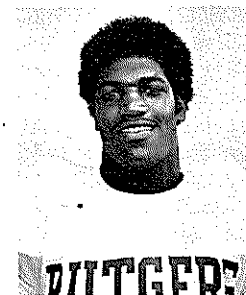

determined and very poised athlete and a vital key to our offense. A hard worker, he is intelligent and handles pressure situations very well."—(Naso) . . . Rutgers Experience: Lettered each of the past two seasons. Last year, Kennan connected on a 42-yarder against Lehigh, just one yard shy of his personal best against Colgate as a freshman. He also had two near misses beyond the 50-yard line, including a 56-yard try against Bucknell that fell just short. Second leading scorer with 54 points. Holds the Scarlet's career record with 18 field goals in only two seasons. A business administration major at Rutgers College . . . Scholastic Background: All-State his senior year as a kicker for Delhaas High, Bristol, PA. Was also an All-State soccer performer, and a member of the baseball team . . . Varsity Statistics: 1976 (PAT's) Att. 35 / Made 32; (FG's) Att. 21 / Made 11 / Tot. 65 points; 1977 (PAT's) Att. 37 / Made 34; (FG's) Att. 19 / Made 7 / Tot. 54 points.

ED STEWARD, 21, 6-1, 230, junior middle guard from Cliffwood . . . Quikquote: "Ed has tremendous quickness, and explosion to the ball. With continued improvement, he'll be one of the better middle guards in the East."—(Cottrell) . . . Rutgers Experience: Split the middle guard duties with Pete Zimmerman in his first year for the Scarlet Knights. A strong performer with good agility and quickness to go along with his burly size. Third leading returning tackler, Ed also recorded one quarterback sack last year . . . Scholastic Background: An All-Area performer for Barry Rizzo's Matawan Huskies, Ed was an outstanding high school player and running back . . . Varsity Statistics: (Tackles) 1977 Prim. 32 / Asst. 19 / Tot. 51.

and track teams. He set a school record in the 330-intermediate hurdles, and ran with the mile relay unit . . . Varsity Statistics: (Rushing) 1977 Att. 1 / Yds. 31 / TD's 1; (Receiving) Cgt. 1 / Yds. 23 / TD's 0.

FRANK VENEZIA, 6-2, 225, junior offensive guard from Lyndhurst . . . Quikquote: "Frank is a good, hard worker. He has great desire and will contribute to our program."—(Taigia) . . . Rutgers Experience: Was a starter for the sub-varsity and also travelled with the varsity last year. Provides needed depth on the offensive line . . . Scholastic Experience: Frank was a four-year letter winner as a guard for Essex Catholic High School. He was honored as All-Parochial first team selection as well as All-Essex County.

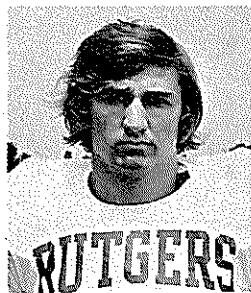

and is extremely tough and aggressive. A dependable cornerback, he has a great attitude and is a team leader." —(Savino) . . . Rutgers Experience: Earl is known for his reckless abandon in his performances on the special teams. In his sophomore year, he blocked a punt against Massachusetts that was recovered for a touchdown for the go-ahead points. An intense competitor who should see much action. A liberal arts major at Rutgers College . . . Scholastic Background: An All-Area guard and

All-County guard/linebacker for Trenton High School. Earl was also a two-year letter winner for the baseball team . . . Varsity Statistics: 1976 (Tackles) Prim. 13 / Asst. 2 / Tot. 13.

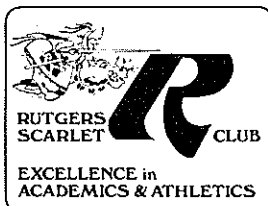

PETER C. ZIMMERMAN, 21, 6-1, 225 senior middle guard from Cinnaminson . . . Quikquote: "Pete was a vastly improved player last year, and contributed greatly with his play at middle guard. A very intense player, he will be valuable to our team this year." —(Cottrell) . . . Rutgers Experience: Although he was used sparingly his first two seasons, Pete stepped into the middle guard spot when Rich Wagner was injured last year and came on like gang-busters. He emerged as the club's seventh leading tackler, and will be a key to the defensive success this year. Played head-to-head against his brother, Hank, who performs at center for William & Mary. Another brother, Dave, played for the Knights, 1966-68. Quickness and agility are two of his biggest assets . . . Scholastic Background: All-South Jersey center-tackle for Cinnaminson High School. Pete also lettered in baseball and wrestling, earning Region 8 and District 27 wrestling titles as a senior . . . Varsity Statistics: (Tackles) 1977 Prim. 34 / Asst. 15 / Tot. 49.

Scarlet R . . . The Team Behind the Teams

As the "team" behind the teams, the Scarlet R program plays a vital role in Rutgers University reaching new levels of success in athletic competition. Scarlet R members provide the needed funds to sustain a competitive program and to keep Rutgers teams among the best in the nation. As the Scarlet R program continues to grow, its basic purpose remains the same — to provide financial aid for qualified student-athletes and to improve the quality of men's and women's intercollegiate athletics at Rutgers University.

Additional information concerning the Scarlet R Club may be obtained by contacting Scarlet R Club, Rutgers University Foundation, 191 College Avenue, New Brunswick, N. J. 08903, Anthony D. Oliva, Executive Secretary, (201) 932-7629.

None stands under six feet, the tallest a strapping 6-6. The lightest lineman weighs in at better than 200 and only four in the total fail to reach that level on the scales. The Scarlet recruiting rounds for members of the Class of 1982 obviously had size in mind and the search seems to have been successful.

Size certainly was not the lone criterion as Frank Burns and his staff scoured the New Jersey-New York-Pennsylvania scholastic football scene. This year, there is a notable difference.

Past successes have largely come from combing the home state. But, while the squad will continue to show a dominant New Jersey flavor, New York and Pennsylvania came vitally into the picture this year with eight and five recruits, respectively. Of the 23 new men, 10 are Garden State residents.

Indicative of the quality of the incoming athletes are such linemen as Carteret's Mike Rustemeyer (6-4, 235), Morris Hills' Ken Bercier (6-5, 210) and Glassboro's Dave Wynn (6-5, 245) among the in-staters. From the neighboring states are such as Bill Pickel (6-6, 230) of Maspeth, N.Y., Phil Razey (6-3, 230) of Kingston, N.Y., and Barry Fyock (6-5, 225) of Commodore, Pa.

Among the outstanding scholastic backs are Stockton's Joe Garefino, a 6-2, 215-pound QB from South Hunterdon Regional and Bryant Moore, Florence's record-setting fullback who broke Franco Harris' single season scoring mark.

All of the recruits carry glittering scholastic honors, from All-America notice to local celebrity status. They are also distinguished by their versatility, a quality that all fine athletes seem to have in common and one that especially catches the eye of recruiters across the nation.

Frank Burns and his Scarlet staff appear to have done another solid job in attracting these young men to the State University. No less a concern than their athletic ability is their academic talent. The men will have every opportunity to improve as student-athletes at Rutgers.

RUTGERS STADIUM DEDICATION PROGRAM

RUTGERS 20, PRINCETON 18

NOVEMBER 5, 1938

40TH ANNIVERSARY

A very kind home to the Scarlet Knights over the past four decades, Rutgers Stadium will celebrate its 40th birthday this season. The stadium was dedicated November 5, 1938, appropriately enough, with a thrilling 20-18 win over Princeton, Rutgers' first win over the Tigers since the nation's first intercollegiate game in 1869.

The Stadium has experienced 30 winning football seasons, and last year's 4-0 home record extended the Scarlet's home unbeaten streak to 17-0 since 1974.

Construction on the Stadium began in 1935 with funds from the Federal Works Progress Administration and Rutgers University. Today's East and West stands sit along the sides of a narrow ravine from which 160,000 cubic yards of earth were originally removed.

Over the years, 45 colleges and three service academies have visited the beautiful bowl, which is located in Piscataway on the Busch Campus. As many as 31,000 people — a capacity figure expanded by temporary seating for the nationally televised 29-0 Centennial Game win over Princeton in 1969 — have jammed the facility, although the normal capacity is 23,000.

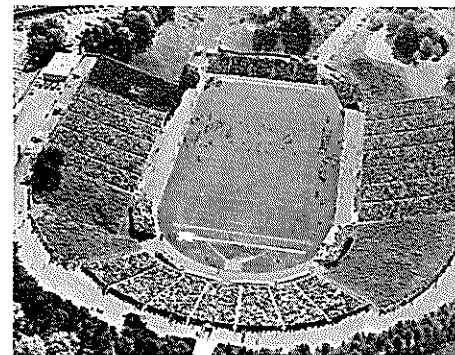

GIANTS STADIUM

The Rutgers football team will return for its fourth Giants Stadium appearance September 30, when the Scarlet takes on Princeton in the nation's oldest intercollegiate gridiron rivalry. Columbia will also host Rutgers at the Meadowlands, Oct. 28.

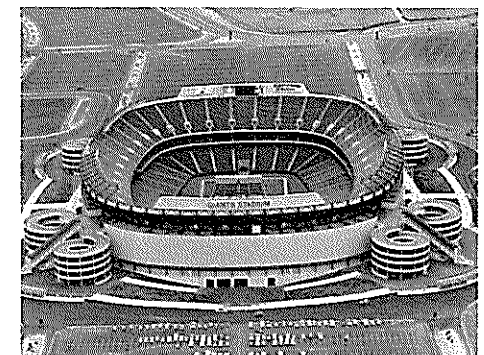

Giants Stadium is becoming a "second home" of sorts for the Rutgers football team. The Scarlet Knights own a 2-1 record in the new facility. Rutgers defeated Columbia 47-0 in October, 1976, before 42,328 fans in the first intercollegiate contest in the Meadowlands. Later that year, the Knights upended Colgate 17-9 before 33,405 fans and a regional television audience on Thanksgiving evening, capping the unbeaten 11-0 campaign. Last year, before 64,790 fans, the largest crowd ever assembled in New Jersey to watch a college football game, Rutgers fell to Penn State.

The 76,800 seat stadium is located in East Rutherford, just off Route 3 and Exit 16W of the Turnpike. Giants Stadium is the home of the NFL's Giants and the North American Soccer League champs, the Cosmos.

In future seasons, Rutgers will host a number of interesting opponents in the magnificent stadium.

*Temple TD on interception return

With the perfect 11-0 record in 1976 (the second undefeated season for the Scarlet which turned the trick with a 9-0 mark in 1961), Rutgers was the first major college team in 19 years and only the sixth in NCAA history to complete a season as the leader in three team defensive categories. The Scarlet Knight defense allowed just 7.4 points a game, permitted only 83.9 yards rushing per contest and limited opponents to 179.2 yards in total defense each time out.

Seniors Mike Fisher, Dan Pfabe, and Elvin Washington earned their fourth football letters last season. They joined Nate Toran, John Alexander, Dwight Lipscomb and Tom Holmes as the only ones over the last 26 years to turn the trick. Freshmen were not allowed to compete on varsity teams between 1954 and 1972.

Rutgers will open the 1978 football season against Penn State for the second straight season. The Sept. 9 contest will be played at Beaver Stadium where an expansion project has increased the capacity to over 76,000. Last year's game at Giants Stadium drew 64,790 fans, the largest attendance figure for a college game in New Jersey. The Nittany Lions won, 45-7, in the renewal of an eight-game series which had lapsed since 1955.

The Scarlet Knights will make two appearances in Giants Stadium during the 1978 campaign, hosting Princeton, Sept. 30, and joining Columbia, Oct. 28. Rutgers and Columbia met in the first intercollegiate game at the Meadowlands, Oct. 23, 1976, a 47-0 Scarlet victory. The Knights defeated Colgate, 17-9, in the 1976 finale at Giants Stadium to post an undefeated season. The Rutgers-Columbia series began in 1870.

The 1978 football season marks the 109th for Rutgers which played the first intercollegiate contest against Princeton in 1869. The original site of that Nov. 6 game 110 years ago is now a parking lot located behind Rutgers Gym. Rutgers did not compete in 1871.

Rutgers Stadium will celebrate its 40th anniversary this year. The 23,000-seat stadium was dedicated on Nov. 5, 1938 and gave Rutgers its first win over Princeton since the 1869 contest by a 20-18 count.

The home stadium has produced 30 winning seasons in the 40 years. Last year's 4-0 home record extended the undefeated streak there to 17. The last Stadium loss was to Connecticut by a 9-7 margin in 1974. Eleven of the winning seasons have produced perfect marks.

Rutgers holds a series' edge against only four of its 1978 opponents (Bucknell, Connecticut, Columbia and Colgate) but comes off wins against eight of the 11 foes. Six teams return from last year's 8-3 season but the Scarlet Knights have previously faced the five others, Columbia (1976), Holy Cross (1973), Massachusetts (1976), Villanova (1962) and Yale (1966).

Football at Rutgers has enjoyed a rich heritage, dating back to the first inter-collegiate contest in 1869 when the Scarlet Knights defeated cross-state rival Princeton, 6-4. In that time, there have been a number of players represented on All-American teams, including four full-fledged, 24-karat gold first team members.

The Knights' first team All-Americans are Paul Robeson (1917-18), Homer Hazel (1923-24), William Austin (1958) and Alex Kroll (1961).

Between 1913 and 1918, four other Rutgers stars were selected to Walter Camp's second and third teams: Howard Talman, Bob "Nasty" Nash, Al "Budge" Garrett, and Frank Kelly.

Three years ago, the most recent member joined the All-America club. Nate Toran, who spearheaded the Rutgers defense in his four years on the Banks, was a third-team All-American defensive end in 1975 and moved up to the second team in 1976. The Scarlet Knights were a sparkling 20-2 in Toran's final two seasons.

CENTENNIAL MEDALLION

Robeson was the initial first team All-American selection in 1917, and repeated the following year. He was only the third black athlete to be selected. The internationally known concert singer and actor, who died Jan. 23, 1976, was the subject of a Broadway play this year.

Hazel, a member of the Hall of Fame, was a two-time selection as an end and fullback. In his two seasons, Rutgers compiled a 14-2-2 mark. Hazel was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1951.

Austin, now second in all-time total offense, was named to the elite squad after leading Rutgers to an 8-1 record. Kroll was a first team selection in 1961, when he captained the Knights to a 9-0 season. In his two years of competition, Rutgers was 17-1.

RUTGERS FOOTBALL ON THE AIR

All Rutgers games will be broadcast by WCTC, 1450 AM (with WTNJ, 1300 AM, picking up a feed), by WRSU, 88.7 FM, the student station, and by WBGO, 88.3 FM, a network affiliate of Public Radio. JerseyVision, New Jersey Public TV (Channels 23, 50, 52, 58) plans tapes of the Penn State, Princeton, Villanova and Temple games.

PENN STATE PROSPECTS:

Penn State returns 12 starters and 32 of its 44 top players from an outstanding 11-1, 1977 campaign, including a 42-30 win over highly touted Arizona State in the Fiesta Bowl. It will be tough for the Nittany Lions to duplicate their ranking as the country's fourth best team, however, as four 1978 opponents were also in the final Top 20 last year. Leading Penn State this year will be record-breaking quarterback Chuck Fusina, who completed 142 passes for 2,220 yards and 15 touchdowns last year. He'll be joined in an outstanding backfield by fullbacks Matt Suhey and Bob Torrey, and creating the holes up front will be All-American tackle Keith Dorney. Rick Donaldson and Mike Guman are two tough Penn State veterans on defense.

GIANTS STADIUM, THE MEADOWLANDS, SEPT. 2.— Penn State stopped the nation's longest win streak at 18 when it defeated the Scarlet Knights before 64,790 fans, the largest to witness a college football game in New Jersey. The Nittany Lions rolled up 504 yards in total offense, racing to a 38-0 halftime advantage behind two touchdowns each by Matt Suhey and Mike Guman. Suhey led all rushers with 94 yards on 12 carries, while Chuck Fusina was good on 8-of-15 passes and one TD from his quarterback post. Lester Johnson scored the lone Scarlet touchdown on a four-yard run late in the final period.

BUCKNELL'S PROSPECTS:

With a full year of the Wing-T offense under their belt, the Bisons are optimistic about the upcoming year. Last season's leading runner, Joel Boyd (675) returns, as well as veteran quarterback Glyn Lipp. The Bisons must find someone to fill the shoes of the departed Vince Woody, the 1977 MVP at halfback, but Paul D'Aloia and Kevin Finnegan look sharp in the backfield. Bucknell returns its two top tacklers, linebackers John Cieslewicz and Joel Kreider. The Herd will also be counting on players like Bruce Keltie and Don Kelley. Bucknell will return talented people in almost every position, and if it can whip the injury jinx, 1978 could be a fine year.

RUTGERS STADIUM, PISCATAWAY, N.J. SEPT. 17 — Mark Lassiter and Lester Johnson scored a pair of touchdowns each, while Bert Kosup added another tally as Rutgers broke a two-game losing skein with the big win over Bucknell. Gaining his first nod as a starting quarterback since leading Rutgers to an 11-0 mark in 1976, Kosup completed 9-of-14 passes for 139 yards. The Scarlet Knights gained over 450 yards in total offense while holding the Bisons to less than 200 yards. Signal caller Glyn Lipp scored both of the Bucknell TDs on short plunges.

PRINCETON'S PROSPECTS:

Gridiron fortunes at Princeton hope to rise with the appointment of Frank Navarro as head football coach. Last year, Navarro led Wabash to the runnerup spot in the NCAA Division III playoffs. The Tigers return 37 lettermen, including 15 starters from last year's 3-6 team. Senior Gary Larson promises to be the top running back now that All-Ivy halfback Bob Isom has graduated. Defensively, Princeton appears to be solid. Senior Pete Funke should emerge as the defensive leader, and will guide a veteran corps that features Andy Hvidston, Bob Ehrlich, and Jerry Peacock.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: RUTGERS 10, PRINCETON 6

PALMER STADIUM, PRINCETON, N.J., SEPT. 24 — On a dreary, rainy Saturday afternoon before 19,500 fans, quarterback Bert Kosup hooked up with wide receiver Walt Hynoski for a 30-yard third quarter scoring play to give Rutgers the narrow 10-6 win. The score capped a nine play, 63-yard drive that snapped a 3-3 deadlock. A 22-yard field goal by Chris Howe brought the Tigers to within 10-6, but Rutgers freshman defensive end Phil Parkins recovered a Princeton fumble on the Rutgers 17-yard line with 1:17 left in the game, aborting the Tigers' final effort and securing the win for the Knights. Kosup, despite the poor passing conditions, had a hot hand, completing 11-of-15 for 117 yards and the winning TD. Glen Kehler had another strong rushing day for the Scarlet, picking up 77 yards in 20 carries.

YALE'S PROSPECTS:

The Bulldogs enjoyed an outstanding 1977 season, winning the Ivy League crown and finishing first in the loop in team offense and defense. But Cozza will have his hands full trying to replace stars like running back John Pagliaro (1,159 rushing yards), quarterback Bob Rizzo (61-of-113 passes) and three-fifths of the starting defensive front line. All-Ivy end John Spagnola (35 receptions), starting fullback Rick Angelone (320 yards) and key linemen return offensively, while a pair of All-Ivy performers, Bill Crowley and Clint Streit, lead the defense.

YALE BOWL, NEW HAVEN, CONN., OCT. 1, 1966 — These two teams hadn't met since 1936, when Yale blasted the Scarlet 28-0. It was a different story three decades later, however, as Rutgers took a 17-0 lead into the fourth period and withstood a furious Yale comeback for the win. Jim Dulin booted a field goal early in the second quarter for a 3-0 Rutgers lead, and Rutgers added a touchdown when soph quarterback Pete Savino (now a Rutgers assistant coach) sneaked over from the 1-yard line after Charlie Mudie recovered a Bulldog fumble deep in Yale territory. A third period 36-yard scamper by sophomore halfback Bryant Mitchell gave Rutgers a 17-0 lead, but Yale refused to give up. Bulldog lineman Bill Hilgendorf intercepted a Savino toss and returned it for a TD, while Jim Fisher bulled over from the six to make it 17-14 when time ran out.

Second-year coach Walt Nadzak figures the Huskies will be "much improved" over last year's 1-10 team. Solid defenders like senior linebacker Dennis O'Connell and sophomore end Mark Flood hope to make life miserable for UConn opponents. Although defense should be the club's strong point, some talented freshmen should add considerable punch to the Huskie offense. Quarterback Ken Sweitzer and running back Ray James are two names to remember for the future. Veteran guard Tony Catapano rates as the top offensive lineman.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: RUTGERS 42, CONNECTICUT 18

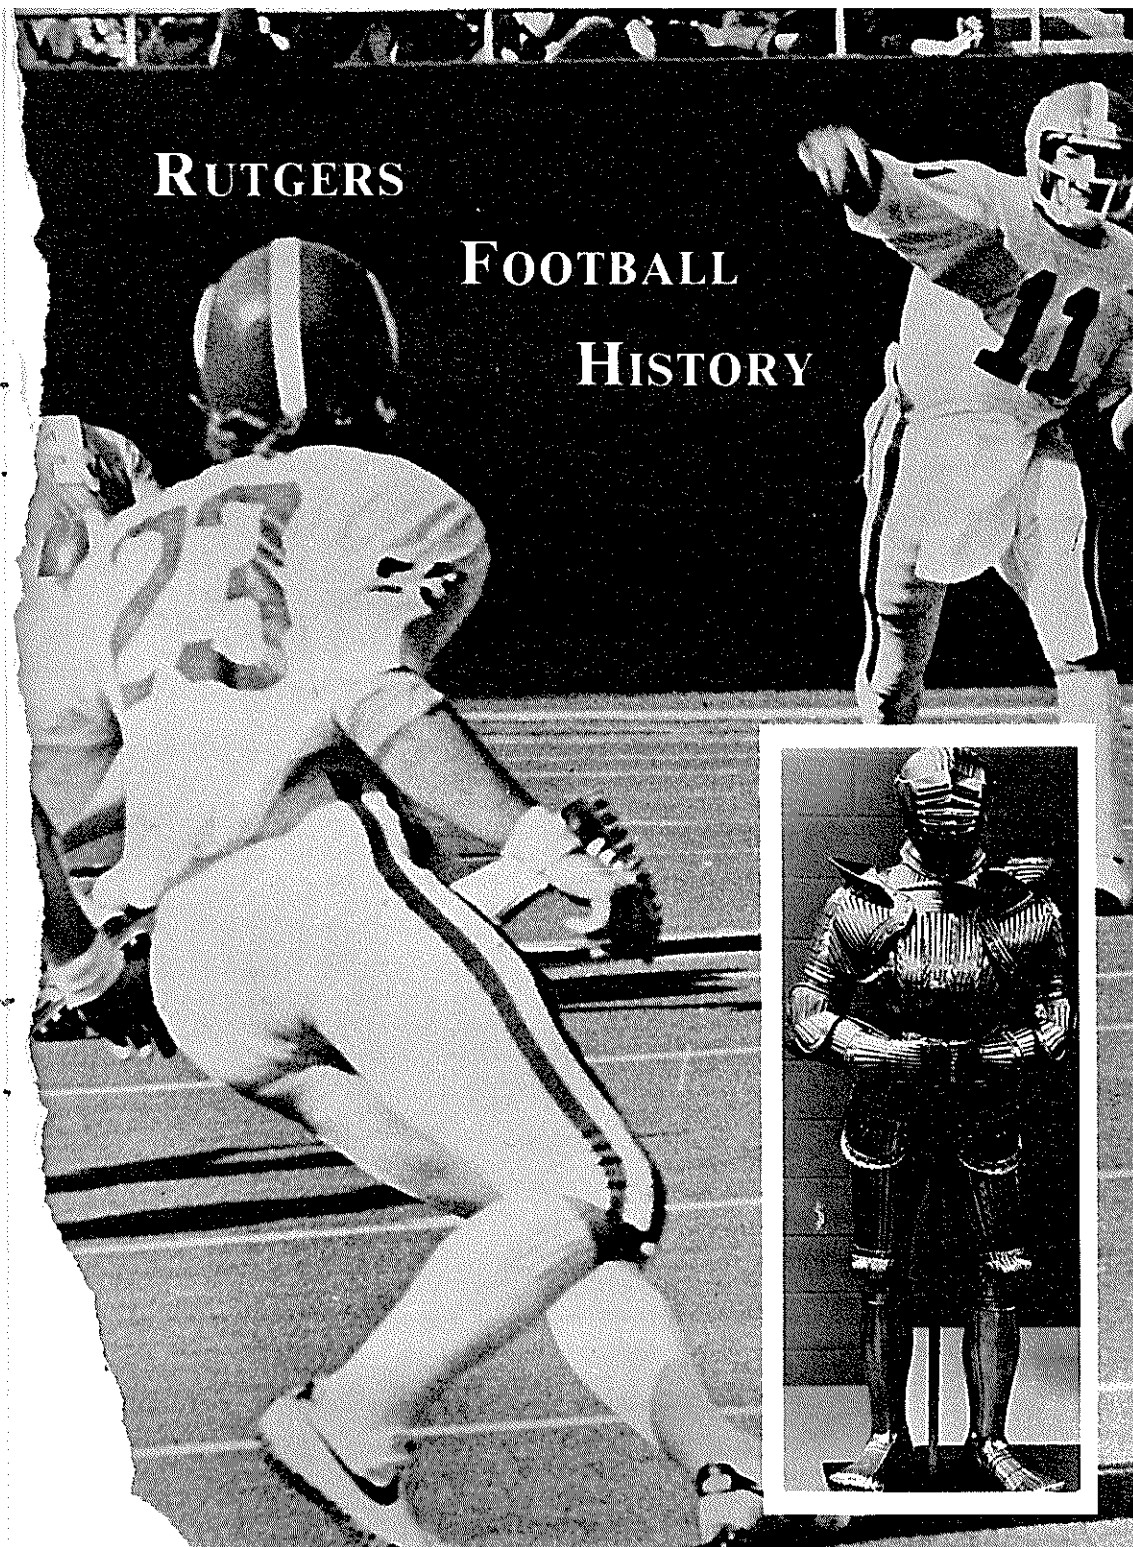

MEMORIAL STADIUM, STORRS, CONN., OCT. 8. — (The Scarlet Knights rolled to a 28-0 first period lead, scoring all of their points in the first half to easily handle the Huskies. It was a big day for Rutgers quarterback Bert Kosup, who moved into first place on the school's all-time pass yardage list with an 8-of-11, 216-yards and four touchdown performance.) George Carter caught two of those scoring bombs, covering 21 and 64 yards.) Connecticut mounted a second half comeback with a 12-point third quarter, but only hit paydirt once in the final period to fall short. Returning QB Maron Clark scored twice on one-yard runs for the Huskies, while Mike Fisher and Lester Johnson each notched two touchdowns for Rutgers.

The pictures of the knights that appear throughout this book were taken by John Wooding at the Monmouth Museum on the Brookdale Community College campus in Lincroft. The fascinating exhibit, called "Kings, Knights, and Knaves" was on view in April and May and was a collection of arms and armor dating from the 14th through the 17th centuries. Other trappings of the period were also featured. The various European and Middle Eastern pieces were gathered from several museums and collections, including the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Cloisters (New York), the John Woodward Higgins Armory of Worcester, MA, and the Mint Museum in Charlotte, N.C. We thank the Museum for granting permission to use these pictures.
